

ORCHARD DOES NOT REALIZE POSITION

Tells Story of Crimes Without Any Display of Feeling—Some Facts Regarding Early Life.

(Associated Press.)
Boise, June 7.—Harry Orchard takes the stand this morning for his third day of examination as the principal witness against Wm. D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of Frank Stuenkel, former governor. The cross-examination commenced yesterday afternoon will probably take up the entire day, and may be continued over till to-morrow. The state will then again take Orchard in hand and the re-direct examination will bring out more of the details of the terrible story.
When turned over to the defence he appeared to rally. He acted as though relieved from the strain, and having once told in public the murder of Stuenkel seemed to welcome the change. His answers to Attorney Richardson's questions were delivered without hesitation. He is quick-witted and self-possessed, and appears not to feel the atmosphere of abhorrence with which he is surrounded.
The cross-examination is developing into a battle of wits with Richardson and Orchard.
According to those who know the facts of his early life, Orchard is not a naturalized citizen of the United States. His parents of course were Canadians, the father of English and the mother of Irish descent. Orchard had but Little Education.
He attended a country school in Canada, but passed through only a few lower grades. He is the second child of seven. All his brothers and sisters are living. When still a boy he worked for the neighbors, and was over 20 years when he left home and went to Saginaw, Mich.
In the course of Orchard's examination Richardson asked questions to prove that Orchard began a career of dissipation early in life. The man himself says that it was only after several years of hard work that he began drinking and gambling.

At that time he was building up a good business in making of cheese, but it is now 12 years since the turning point. The woman who is said to be at the bottom of it all is the wife of the man with whom he boarded while working at the cheese factory in Northumberland county, Canada. Infatuated, he ran away with the woman, changed his name and afterwards, ashamed to return to his wife and child, drifted into a life of crime that gradually led to taking up killing as a trade, by which he could earn easy money and avoid hard manual labor.
Orchard is a man without nerves, so far as the closest observer can discover. At times while relating the most frightful of the crimes of which he accuses himself, his voice changes and lowers, but during the eight hours he has been on the stand under fire of continual questioning the man's manner altered little, and except for the first flurry of nervousness when he walked out into the courtroom and faced the crowd of curious faces, after sixteen months of close incarceration, he has shown no sign that he realized he was making a record as the greatest criminal of the century.
That the cross-examination of Orchard will be Severe in the Extreme was evinced by the first half hour. Counsel for the defence says they will be able to tear down completely the story he has told in direct examination. They have called about 150 witnesses.

MUSICAL TREAT FOR VICTORIA

THE ARION-ORPHEUS CONCERT TO-NIGHT

Amateur Orchestral Society Will Make its First Appearance—A Classic Entertainment.

To-night the long looked forward to concert to be given by the Arion and Orpheus clubs will take place at the Victoria theatre. Present indications are that there will be a record crowd at what promises to be one of the greatest musical treats of the season.
This afternoon on board the Indianapolis the Orpheus members arrived from Tacoma. The singers numbered between 25 and 30, and with them were 5 instrumentalists. In all some 70 made the pilgrimage from the City of Destiny, many enthusiasts travelling with the Orpheus artists.
A feature of the programme will be the first appearance of the Victoria Amateur Orchestral Society. The orchestra numbers 25 performers, under the able leadership of the well-known musician, Ben Bently. The orchestra will accompany the united clubs and at times the number of united performers taking part will be nearly 100.
The stirring strains of the Soldiers Chorus, from Faust, will be given by the two clubs. In the second item, on the programme, the Victoria Amateur Orchestral Society will make its debut in the city and it has chosen as its theme the first of Beethoven's great symphonies, one of the greatest efforts of the greatest composer of all time. Again in the Pilgrims Chorus, from Tannhauser, the melodious strains of which are perhaps unequalled, the united choirs will sing the beautiful number which is constantly recurring through Wagner's masterpiece proclaiming the triumph of good over evil. The chorus from Mendelssohn's Antigone will also be taken part in by both clubs.
The above are the outstanding features in the programme which is replete with musical gems.
At 4.30 this afternoon the united choirs are holding a rehearsal at the Victoria theatre, and any deficiencies which may exist in the diapason of the mated voices will be remedied. The concert committee wishes it to be stated that souvenir programmes will be sold at the nominal price of ten cents. The programme will give the words of the different numbers to be sung, and will prove a fitting memento of one of the greatest musical treats with which this city has ever been favored. It is further noted that the gal-lery has accommodation for 350 people.

and from an acoustic standpoint this part of the house is one of the best. The full programme is as follows:

STEAMER LONSDALE LEAVES IQUIQUE

Bound to Salina Cruz to Take Up
Sailings on Canadian Mexican Line.

Advices have been received at the local offices of the Canadian-Mexican Pacific Steamship Company that the steamer Lonsdale, the second vessel of the new line, left Iquique yesterday on her way to Salina Cruz. It has been decided that she will take up her sailings on the trade route from the Mexican end. The change between the Chilean port and Salina Cruz will probably occupy about twenty days, so that the vessel should arrive at Mexico before the end of the month. There she will load with cargo and also calling at Mazatlan, Acapulco and Manzanillo, she is expected to reach Victoria on approximately July 29th.
The Georgia, the steamer which made the inaugural sailing on the line, is now en route here. She is scheduled to arrive on the 12th inst. Her next sailing date is July 1st, and in the interim, while she is in these waters, she will load with freight at Vancouver. New Westminster and Victoria. The trade outlook on the new route is daily becoming more promising, and indications are not wanting to show that the enterprise will benefit Victoria to an incalculable degree.

WILL RETIRE FROM SERVICE.

Ottawa, June 7.—Col. Robert Cartwright, assistant inspector general of musketry, and head of Rockcliffe musketry school, has been given six months' leave of absence and will retire from military service on January 1st, on account of ill-health. He is a son of Sir Richard Cartwright.

WILL REMOVE TREES. Decision of Oak Bay Municipality Is Not Received Favorably by Some Residents.

The Oak Bay municipality held a special meeting yesterday and arrived at a decision which has already given rise to considerable discussion among the inhabitants in that neighborhood. It was decided at the meeting to do away with all the trees which exist on Saratogo avenue and St. Patrick street, both highways which are now being laid down.
It was at first thought that on either side of these roads a row of trees should be left standing and that the highways should be laid down in the boulevard fashion now so much in vogue in large cities. The municipality has, however, stepped in and decided that all the trees shall be removed.
Some of the prominent citizens in Oak Bay are now organizing a petition which will be submitted to the voters for signatures, asking the council to rescind the decree passed yesterday. The contention is that the destruction of the trees will greatly detract from the beauty of the neighborhood.

FRANK CLAYTON MUST STAND TRIAL

He Was Committed This Morning in the Police Court for Horse Stealing.

Frank Clayton, alias Parker and several other names, was this morning committed for trial by Magistrate Hall in the provincial police court on a charge of horse-stealing. The accused, who was arrested in Vancouver on Friday last by J. J. Russell, constable at Saanich, is alleged to have taken a horse, harness and buggy from the farm owned by George Bridges at Mount Tolmie, on March 28th.
When the case was called, the accused was "badly" pleaded "not guilty," announced that he would conduct his own defence. The informant was represented by J. S. Yates.
Constable J. J. Russell, of Saanich, was the first witness. He deposed to receiving information of the theft and arresting the prisoner in Vancouver. George Bridges, the informant, said that he first met the accused on March 27th. The same evening witness and the prisoner drove into town. On the following day Clayton stayed with witness on his farm doing chores. During the afternoon witness went to sleep as he was not feeling very well. When he awoke about seven o'clock in the evening, the prisoner had disappeared with the horse and rig. The collar dog, belonging to witness, which always followed the horse, had also gone. Witness had not given the prisoner permission to take the rig, but he thought that Clayton might have taken it to town with the intention of returning at night. The following day he came to the city and instituted a search for the stolen property, without finding it. He then placed the case in the hands of the police. The rig and horse were afterwards found at the Strathcona hotel, Shawinigan lake. Joe Ferris, witness for the defence, said that the accused came to his home with the horse and rig at 10 p. m. on the 28th. He, the accused, asked witness to buy the horse for $100 saying that he could get $150 for it from a Chinaman he knew but he wanted the money right away. Witness refused to transact business at such a late hour, and accused then offered to take $50 for the horse, providing witness would give him an old horse as well as the money. Witness told him he would buy the horse next day but finally went with the accused to William Le Lievre's house and talked the matter over with Le Lievre. Witness decided not to have any dealings with Clayton acting under Le Lievre's instructions.
William Le Lievre corroborated the story told by the previous witness. August, Borden said that he saw the accused on Friday, March 29th, at Sooke Lake, where witness and his family were camping. Accused told him that he had purchased the horse and rig for $150.
Herbert Edward Fisher, hostler at the Strathcona hotel, said that accused brought the horse and rig to the hotel on Good Friday, March 29th. He, the prisoner, left the horse in the barn and then went away. Nothing more was heard of the accused, but some time later the police instructed the proprietors of the hotel to hold the horse pending the owner's arrival. Mr. Bridges afterwards came for the rig. The horse and rig were outside the court during the hearing and all the witnesses identified it. The dog, which invariably follows the horse, was also identified by all who gave evidence.
Witness said that he had no statement to make and was committed for trial.

CITY REAL ESTATE IS STILL ACTIVE

A Number of Sales Are Reported and Many Investors Expected to Arrive Shortly.

The real estate situation in the city is looking brighter, and although the fall rush is not expected to commence for at least two or three months yet, nevertheless things are beginning to move and considerable quantities of realty are, in a quiet way, continually changing hands. There is a great demand for houses in the city, and although the lack of supply will not be felt so keenly during the summer months, as so many people will be leaving their homes for camping quarters, yet in the fall houses will be almost impossible to obtain. This promises well indeed for the architects and contractors who will undoubtedly have their hands full.
Prairie people, and especially Calgary residents, are looking towards Victoria, and during the past two weeks several families have purchased homes in the city.
Oak Bay and the outlying districts are receiving great attention, and it is in these localities that the activity is principally felt.
Grant & Lineham report a number of sales within the last ten days, among them a dozen lots on Bank street, which runs east parallel to Richmond avenue. The property owners of this district have petitioned the city council for the immediate opening up of this street. The firm has also disposed of a house and two acres on Oak Bay avenue to local men; a lot on Niagara street to local investors; three houses on the corner of Port and Queen streets to Eastern people; and a lot at Oak Bay and a residence on Uper Johnson street to Eastern speculators.
The Dominion Real Estate Exchange have recently disposed of a number of large blocks of acreage on the waterfront at Royal Bay, some to local men and several to Eastern investors.
The other real estate agencies of the city have all handled considerable quantities of land within the last few weeks, and it is the general belief that July and August are going to be very busy months.

WEDDING AT CAPITAL.

Mr. J. J. Anderson and Miss Dora Oliver, United in Bonds of Matrimony.
Ottawa, June 7.—A fashionable wedding took place at St. Andrew's church yesterday, when Dora Oliver, second daughter of Hon. Frank Oliver, was united to Mr. John Jamieson Anderson, manager of the Union Bank in Edmonton. The church was beautifully decorated. Dr. Herridge performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father. The couple left for England, where they will spend a couple of months before returning to their home in Edmonton.
In the days of Columbus, only seven metals were known to exist. Now there are fifty-one in use.

STRONGLY URGES A TENTED CITY

NEEDED TO RELIEVE THE CONGESTION

J. A. Virtue Thinks Prompt Action
Should Be Taken to Meet the Situation

Repeated references have been made to the necessity of providing this summer, some auxiliary service to that furnished by the hotels, for the accommodation of the vast crowds of visitors who will come to Victoria this season. Hitherto these references have been more or less indefinite, and in most instances have not come from men unfamiliar with the handling of the travelling public, and hence, perhaps, the same importance was not attached to them.

J. A. Virtue, whose long and successful record in catering to the public enforces his views to be considered, in conversation with a Times man a few days ago expressed himself very positively in regard to the congestion which was sure to take place this summer if some prompt steps were not taken to handle the crowds. He declared that already people were being turned away, and he emphasized the grave effect on the future tourist trade of Victoria if visitors this summer found they were unable to secure accommodation.

Mr. Virtue was asked to suggest some expedient to quickly meet the situation, and to provide the required accommodation before the big influx which will take place next month. "A canvas city," he promptly replied. "That is the only solution of the situation, and I am satisfied that it would be a great success."

Continuing, he said the plan would have to be along the lines of the tented cities of the California coast which were extremely popular. The tents are laid out in avenues and in squares, and there is usually three tents on a suite, two of these for sleeping rooms, and the third for a living room, or where a family so desired, as a private dining room. The manager would rent these tents, and for an additional sum would provide board served in private fashion as a cheaper, or for those who wished a cheaper service, in a large dining marquee.

The greatest problems which would present themselves would be those connected with sanitation, but he outlined a plan whereby this difficulty could, in his opinion, be satisfactorily met.
Macaulay Plains, he thinks, would on the whole, be the best place for such an encampment, but there are numerous other places within easy reach of the city which might also be dedicated to such a purpose.

Mr. Virtue pointed out that this was a matter of civic interest, and although he had little time to take from his own business, he would be glad to co-operate in some such undertaking where the reputation of the city was at stake. He added that the week-end trips from Seattle, Vancouver and other nearby cities was steadily increasing, and that this summer it would reach proportions which rendered such a step as he suggested imperative unless Victoria wished to see her guests turned away from being attracted to the place by pictures of its great beauty.

COMMERCIAL PROSPERITY

BUSINESS HOUSES
INCREASING TRADE

Wholesale and Retail Dealers Feel
Effects—Angela College to Be Made Apartment House.

This year reports are being furnished from all quarters of the great strides which are being made in the various commercial centres of this city. Wholesale houses during the last five months have been doing fully a third more business than they were doing for the corresponding time last year. In the bonded trade it is found that the wholesale houses are weekly taking out at least twice as much stock as they formerly did. Where formerly the returns general stock carried by the wholesale houses dealt with thousands of dollars, now they are dealing with their tens and hundreds of thousands of dollars a month.
It is the same with the retail stores. Their cash sales and credit sales are all witnessing to a record year of prosperity in Victoria. In every case the staffs have had to be increased. Where even at the commencement of the present year one book-keeper was able to get through the work, the management in many of the stores are finding it necessary to provide their book-keepers with assistants.
Nor is this due to a general use in the standard of comfort amongst the inhabitants of Victoria. It is mainly due to the great influx of people from all parts into the city. Workers of all classes, laborers and capitalists, are working at high pressure to meet the growing demands of the times.
This is reacting upon the prices of property and the utilization of the present buildings to meet the altered conditions of Victoria. Large houses which a few years ago were almost useless are now realizing large profits. Many houses a few years ago were built in reality before their time. They were in those days too large for private residences, and had in consequence to be converted into business premises. All the large houses are now being eagerly taken up by wealthy purchasers. Other buildings, as for instance the old Angela college, are being converted into large departmental houses, while the reverse of the above is equally true, e.g. the large beautifully furnished and comfortable Burdette boarding house was a little time ago purchased for a private residence.
Smaller houses are scarcely to be bought for love or money. This is due to the fact that many intending residents coming to this city and applying at the Tourist Association's rooms for suitable houses to reside in have been compelled to leave the immediate neighborhood of Victoria to seek for houses in the beautiful resorts on the V. & N. and the E. & N. railways. The requests for apartment house accommodation for ladies with families has been felt very strongly of late, and inquirers at the tourist rooms have been turned away with the answer that there was not the accommodation to be found. The taking over of the Angela as a boarding house will fill a long felt want in this direction.

BLEW UP SHIP TO AVOID CAPTURE

The Entire Crew and Eighty Fisher-men Who Were Alongside Ves-sel Were Drowned.

Tunis, June 6.—A Turkish sailing vessel laden with contraband ammunition, which was bound for Tripoli, has been blown up in the vicinity of Port Zanzas. Her entire crew, as well as eighty fishermen, who were alongside at the time, were drowned. The vessel had on board a number of rifles and 500 barrels of powder.
The local authorities learned that she was about to take advantage of the absence of the guard ships to try to disembark her cargo on the beach. They thereupon ordered a number of armed boats belonging to sponge fishers to prevent the landing.
Twenty-four of these boats went out and surrounded the vessel and the men from them were just about to swarm aboard when a terrific explosion occurred. It is believed the captain fired his vessel to avoid capture. A majority of sponge boats went down with the vessel. The explosion was heard for a distance of sixty miles.
Zanzas is in Tunis near Tripoli.

MARRIED ONE MONTH.

Bride Secured Divorce on Ground of
Extreme Cruelty—Locked in Room
By Husband.

Seattle, June 6.—A divorce was yesterday granted Leontine Johnstone, though a bride of only one month, on the ground of extreme cruelty in that her husband, D. Johnstone, had insisted on locking her in a room and not allowing her to go out except in his company. The further charge was made that the husband had been intoxicated the greater portion of the time since their marriage.
The wife is a young French woman who was lodged in a French boarding house by Johnstone immediately after the marriage. She grew tired of being incarcerated within four walls of her home, and broke out one day, with her husband in pursuit, according to the testimony offered yesterday, and managed to secure safe refuge with friends.
The husband is a longshoreman who came to Seattle from Vancouver.

Capt. George McDougall, of the steamer Athabasca, died at Owen Sound, Ont., on Thursday. He had been in ill health for some time. Deceased was well known in the upper lake service and will be kindly remembered by hundreds of people in western Canada who have traveled by his ship.

LIBERALS AND IRISH AFFAIRS

HOPE TO BE ABLE TO SOLVE DIFFICULTIES

Rejection of Mr. Birrell's Bill Will Not Alter Party's Policy Toward Ireland.

(Associated Press.)
London, June 7.—The foremost Liberal principle of the government in the administration of Irish affairs is that they should be conducted in accordance with Irish ideas, said the Marquis of Ripon, lord privy seal and Liberal leader in the House of Lords, speaking last night before the Eighty Club at the Hotel Cecil. He referred to the withdrawal of Mr. Birrell's Irish council bill, and declared it was quite natural that the Nationalists should have rejected the measure when they honestly believed it would have been an obstacle to their ultimate goal—Home Rule.
The speaker was greatly applauded when he announced that he was a "wholly unrepentant Home Ruler," and that the rejection of the bill would make no difference in the policy of the Liberals toward Ireland. His party hoped that it might some day in the future be able to effect a permanent settlement of the difficulties in Ireland in consonance with the wishes of the majority of the people of that island.

ACTIVITY ON GALIANO ISLAND

NEWCOMER BOUGHT
A LARGE ACREAGE

Max Enke Investing in Farm Land—
Will Bring Laborers to De-velop Ranches.

News of great activity in real estate and prospective development in the farming area comes from Galiano Island. Within a very short time a number of settlers will be invited to come to the island and to help in the cultivation of the large amount of valuable land there.

The most recent purchase has been that of Max Enke of the farm which hitherto belonged to J. W. Sinclair. This comprises 200 acres of land of a very productive character owing to the moisture with which it is invested from the surrounding sea. There is three quarters of a mile of foreshore along this land which renders it more valuable still. Four acres of this property is sown with potatoes and is eminently suitable for ranching purposes for which in a large measure its new owner intends using the land.

Some time ago Max Enke purchased the Seabrooke farm, comprising 435 acres, for the sum of $25,000. This property adjoins the latest purchase which he has made from Mr. Sinclair and the same investor is now negotiating for the purchase of a third property adjoining each of the others and known as Baker's Farm, comprising 100 acres.

Max Enke is a new arrival on these shores and is in possession of over $100,000 which he is anxious to invest in the neighborhood. When his purchases on Galiano are complete he will be the holder of nearly 1,000 acres of land. He has stated his intention of bringing laborers from Europe to cultivate the land and there is every indication of great development in the near future in Galiano Island.

MARRIED ONE MONTH.

Bride Secured Divorce on Ground of
Extreme Cruelty—Locked in Room
By Husband.

Seattle, June 6.—A divorce was yesterday granted Leontine Johnstone, though a bride of only one month, on the ground of extreme cruelty in that her husband, D. Johnstone, had insisted on locking her in a room and not allowing her to go out except in his company. The further charge was made that the husband had been intoxicated the greater portion of the time since their marriage.
The wife is a young French woman who was lodged in a French boarding house by Johnstone immediately after the marriage. She grew tired of being incarcerated within four walls of her home, and broke out one day, with her husband in pursuit, according to the testimony offered yesterday, and managed to secure safe refuge with friends.
The husband is a longshoreman who came to Seattle from Vancouver.

Capt. George McDougall, of the steamer Athabasca, died at Owen Sound, Ont., on Thursday. He had been in ill health for some time. Deceased was well known in the upper lake service and will be kindly remembered by hundreds of people in western Canada who have traveled by his ship.

ORCHARD'S VICTIMS NUMBERED EIGHTEEN

Continued His Terrible Story of Crime—Confession Regarding the Murder of Former Governor Stuenenberg.

Boise, Idaho, June 6.—Harry Orchard crowned his admissions of grave crimes to-day, when, continuing his testimony against Wm. D. Haywood, he made a confession of the murder of Frank Stuenenberg by an infernal machine that directly opens the way for his own conviction and execution for the offence. He swore that the assassination of Stuenenberg was first suggested by Haywood, who plotted by Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone and himself, was financed by Haywood and was executed by himself, after the failure of an attempt in which Jack Simpkins participated. Orchard lifted the total of

by murder to eighteen, detailed the circumstances under which he tried to murder ex-Governor Peabody, Judge Goddard, Judge Gabbert, General Sherman, Deft, Dave Moffatt and Frank Herne. Incidentally he confessed to a plan to kidnap the child of one of his former associates. Then under cross-examination, Orchard confessed the sordid social crimes of deserting his young child and wife in Ontario, fleeing to British Columbia with Mattie Simpson, the wife of another man, and committing bigamy by marrying a third woman at Cripple Creek.

Through the shocking details of murder, plots, secret bomb making and man hunts with saved off shotguns and infernal machines as weapons, the witness went on in the same quiet off-hand manner that marked his demeanor yesterday. His voice dropped to lower keys at the pitiful story of the long dogging of Stuenenberg in Caldwell, narrowed down to the last day; and he told of to Stuenenberg's home to beat his victim with the bomb, and his meeting the doomed man in the evening gloom as he walked unconsciously to his fearful death. Through it all Orchard winced but once, and that was when the defence made him name his six sisters and his one brother and their residences in Ontario and New York.

The defence fought the testimony with a multiplicity of objections, and succeeded in heading off an attempt to testify of the murder of Arthur Collins at Telluride. It also temporarily shut out the contents of a telegram received and a telegram sent by Orchard after his arrest. Except for this the state managed to get its story intact.

The state to-day began its corroboration of Orchard's bloody narrative by producing the lead casing of the bomb designed to kill Peabody. Orchard identified it and swore that he brought it from Canyon City to Denver, and then on to Walker where he gave it to a man named Cunningham. It was thrown into the river, and the state promises to prove its recovery.

Haywood and his kinsfolk listened quietly to the long recital, and about their first show of feeling was one of amusement when Mr. Richardson began his onslaught by bringing out Orchard's domestic crimes.

There were the same precautions and the same Armed Guard to-day to protect Orchard, and the same courtroom scenes, except that among the spectators the women predominated. There was another rush for admittance, and the doors of the court house had to be closed at both sessions. Orchard finished his direct examination at 2:35 o'clock, and the cross-examination had reached only the Cour d'Alene trouble of 1899 when the court rose. The examination will be continued to-morrow.

Details of Crimes.
Boise, June 6.—In continuing his evidence yesterday Orchard, who says his true name is Horsley, said that he and Adams were told to "bray off" for a time by the sometime Pettibone suggested that they kill Lyle Gregory, who had been a deputy sheriff and had testified against some members of the Federation. The witness then described the relentless trailing of Gregory and his final murder. "Gregory turned and backed up against a fence," said the witness, "as if to draw a gun and I shot him three times. It certainly killed him." This account of the bloodthirsty man-hunting and murder seemed to affect the nerves of the crowd, who listened more to it than any of the other recitals of the day, and a perceptible shudder went through the room as he calmly talked of the shooting. It was the only instance when a victim had been faced.

Two Killed in Wreck.
Shawinigan Falls, June 6.—As a result of a collision at Shawinigan Junction, three miles from here, on the Great Northern railway, late last night, two men were killed. The accident is believed to have resulted from a misplaced semaphore, which permitted one train to collide head on with another at the junction. The engineer and fireman were killed, several cars were wrecked and the line was blocked for some time.

BLACKSMITH ENDS LIFE.

Napkins, Man, June 6.—Citizens were shocked on learning that John Depierre, the local blacksmith, had committed suicide by hanging himself in his shop. He was missed yesterday evening, and although searched for was not found till this morning. He has resided here for some four or five years, and leaves a crippled wife and two children.

morning the explosion blew out the front of the house and blew him into the street.

Bradley was badly injured by the explosion, but Horsley made no further attempt to kill him. Orchard swore that after his visit to Denver, when he

for killing McCormick and Beck, he was constantly in the pay of and under the direction of Haywood, Pettibone, Perkins or Davis, that one or other of them suggested his various crimes, and that at all meetings held after each crime his acts were commended.

The defence kept up its attack all through the afternoon, but Judge Wood, accepting for the time the assurance of the state that it would corroborate the testimony, ruled against the defence on all points save one. He declined to let Horsley tell the contents of a telegram sent to him in San Francisco by Pettibone while Horsley was engaged in trying to kill Bradley.

Orchard gave the names of several persons he met in San Francisco when he went there to kill Fred Bradley, former manager of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines in the Cour d'Alene. Orchard for part of the time was known as Barry. On returning to Denver, wearing a soldier's uniform, he called up Pettibone by telephone and told him Bradley was alive but had lost his sight and probably would be deaf the remainder of his life.

Pettibone said that was better than if I had killed him outright, that Bradley would be an example, continued the witness. Orchard said he asked for money and received $125 from Pettibone. Orchard said Haywood next asked him "to go to work on Judge Gabbert, of the supreme court of Colorado."

"He said Judge Gabbert," Orchard went on, "had been rendering decisions against Moyer, whom we were trying to get off of Territory on habeas corpus. I went to Judge Gabbert's house, with Steve Adams and a shotgun, but we Did Not See the Judge.

Haywood also wanted us to try again at Governor Peabody, who was about to be re-elected. Steve Adams, Billy Ackerman and I made a bomb. We put it under the sidewalk at 13th street and Grant avenue, Denver. The governor walked along there every morning. The passage of two coal wagons as the governor walked over the spot prevented Orchard's attempt.

Orchard declared he got a recommendation for that position with one of the big agencies in Denver from Mr. Hawkins, an attorney and partner of E. F. Richardson, one of the attorneys now representing Haywood, and F. J. Sullivan, president of the State Federation of Labor. Orchard said he had decided to prepare a bomb to place beneath Peabody's bedroom window at Canyon City.

The state here produced in evidence the lead casing of the bomb. It was the size of a two gallon can. Orchard identified it. He said he had shown the casing to Pettibone in Denver and loaded it in the basement of Pettibone's store, the latter assisting him. Thirty pounds of giant powder were used.

Orchard declared that Pettibone gave him $200 before he went to Canyon City with the bomb, but that an explanation he had jokingly made in response to a question from a traveling companion, who had heard a clock ticking in the grip with the bomb caused Pettibone to suggest that the attempt be deferred. As Pettibone wanted something pulled off before the convention to show for the money spent, he and Orchard made a and placed it in a vacant lot, which the judge daily crossed. A wire was left outside the bomb, to which a pocket book was to be attached so that anyone picking up the purse would upset the sulphuric acid inside the bomb.

"We tried one day to fasten the purse but Judge Gabbert came too fast and we had to leave it alone," said Orchard. "Pettibone had to go next day to Salt Lake to attend the convention of the Federation. I was afraid to touch the old bomb, so I prepared a new one. As Judge Gabbert started out the next morning, I rode ahead of him on a bicycle and fastened the pocket book to the wire, and rode away. I heard an explosion an hour afterwards. A man named Wally was killed. Judge Gabbert had passed without noticing the pocket book."

This, Pettibone said, was "hard luck," according to Orchard. He said former Adjutant General Sherman Bell, who had helped to break up a strike, was next selected. Haywood and Harrold in a rig which they bought for $115 in Pettibone's name. Later, Orchard and Pettibone one night drove to Bell's house. Moyer returned to Colorado at this explosion, and ordered their operations stopped while he was in Denver, as he would surely be arrested. Besides, he said, he had some outside work which was more important. This was in August, 1905.

Orchard said Moyer told him they should get rid of Johnny Nevills, "who knew too much about the Independence depot affair, and was demanding money."

"Haywood," Orchard continued, "said we ought to get

Ex-Governor Stuenenberg.

He thought that if we got him after letting him go seven or eight years and then went back to Paterson, N. J., and wrote letters to Judge Gabbert, Judge Peabody, Bell and the others, telling them they would get the same thing as Stuenenberg, it would show them they were not forgotten either, and would have a good effect. Moyer said it would be better than killing them."

Haywood said he would send several men to Caldwell to do the Stuenenberg job. Among them were Art Bascott, McCarthy and Steve Adams. Orchard said Adams told him he had not gone to Caldwell, because the money Haywood and Pettibone had sent to him had miscarried. However, Adams said he and Jack Simpkins had got rid of some claim-jumpers they had been after in Idaho.

Orchard traced his movements for some weeks in preparation for the ### MURDER OF STUENENBERG.

He told of consulting Fred Miller, an attorney at Spokane, in connection with the loss of a trunk. Miller is now one of the attorneys for the defence. Orchard arrived in Caldwell with Jack Simpkins in November, 1905. Orchard said he and Simpkins placed a bomb at Stuenenberg's residence some time before the assassination. This bomb failed to explode. Without the slightest show of emotion, Orchard told of waiting to shoot Stuenenberg on Christmas night. He waited outside the house and heard Stuenenberg coming, but could not get his gun together in time.

At 2:30 o'clock Orchard reached the climax of his story. In a steady voice he told of planting the bomb outside the gate. He quickly returned home towards hotel and met Stuenenberg on his way and was a block and a half from the hotel when he heard the explosion. While Orchard was in his room at the hotel, concealing certain evidence a giant cap exploded in his pocket, tearing his coat to pieces.

Orchard had finished his story at 2:35, and Mr. Hawley, after proceeded to bring out the detail of Orchard's arrest. Orchard said after his arrest he received a letter from Pettibone. It was unsigned. The state is believed to have the original letter in its possession.

E. F. Richardson commenced the cross-examination of Orchard at 2:18 p. m. Orchard said he first changed his name from Horsley to Little. He left Canada in 1895, because, he said, "I ran away with another man's wife." Orchard under cross-examination testified that he had two wives living. He had one child by the first, whom he deserted in 1895. His child lives with the mother.

To Ontario.
Brighton, Ont., June 6.—Alfred Horsley, alias Harry Orchard, self-confessed assassin of ex-Governor Stuenenberg at Boise, ran a cheese factory about a mile west of here for a number of years. Not making much of a success at that, he left here for Vancouver about 1896 and was not again heard of until the present trial.

Birdie, Man, June 6.—A tragedy is reported at a lumber camp west of here. Details are lacking, but it is known that one man was shot dead and another seriously wounded in a row. The murderer escaped.

BRITISH COLUMBIA SEALERS AND NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERMEN.

The bold statement of Sir Robert Bond, Premier of Newfoundland, delivered in London within earshot of the arbiters of the destinies of the British Empire, may serve to recall the fact that Imperial policy designed to promote cordial relations with the United States appears to have inflicted serious injury upon loyal subjects of the King on the Island of Vancouver as well as on the Island of Newfoundland. In this portion of the Empire we are all familiar with the various phases of the sealing industry—the outrages perpetrated upon Victoria sealers engaged in a lawful business by officials of the United States in pursuance of a policy designed to secure to a company composed of American citizens a monopoly of the sealing business. It is not necessary to recapitulate the humiliating story in detail. An international tribunal decided that the claims of the Americans in regard to Behring Sea being a national preserve were absurd. In effect it declared that the cutters of the United States had been guilty of piracy upon the high seas. The Victoria owners of the seized schooners were awarded compensation. But the final result was the passage of regulations which practically gave the Americans all they asked for as far as the business of taking seals by Canadians was concerned. The seizure of the schooner Carlotta G. Cox for the alleged crime of hunting while in the midst of a fleet of Japanese vessels which were plying their vocation without danger of incurring any such penalty, illustrates the invidious position in which Canadians have been placed by the Paris regulations. This is one of the fruits of monopoly and of obsequious deference to the will of the United States. There have been other examples of a like kind, but this is the one that affects us directly and which we can appreciate most thoroughly.

The grievance to which Sir Robert Bond has more than once referred is practically of a kindred nature. The government of Newfoundland brought certain regulations into force governing the taking of fish in the waters surrounding the island. Natives of the colony were not exempted from the provisions of this law. The regulations applied to Newfoundlanders and foreigners alike. They were designed to conserve the one important industry of the island. But on the complaint of the United States, alleged to be based on treaty rights, the enactment was vetoed by the Imperial authorities. This action has created a storm, of course. The only excuse for it thus far advanced is that the veto only applies for one year—that the grievance can be adjusted by friendly negotiation without endangering the British-American entente cordiale. In the light of the experience of Canada in such "friendly negotiations" it is perhaps not surprising that the Newfoundland government is doubtful about the result of such poor parleys and is anxious that there shall be no misunderstanding with regard to its sentiments and the feelings of the people it represents.

The question is, are such examples of Imperial weakness and complacency likely to make solid and enduring the foundations of the Empire? And another question that is just as easily answered, would firmness in the maintenance of unquestioned Colonial rights endanger the present cordial relations of Great Britain with the United States? The individual who firmly maintains what he believes to be his side of a controversy is not the one who is regarded with contempt by an opponent. Since Canada vindicated in the most complete manner her commercial and industrial independence of the United States and has determined to make known her views in respect to issues of an international character, has she lost the favor and respect of her powerful but, in the final analysis, just neighbor?

AN EXAMPLE.

The American Monthly Review of Reviews for June contains several articles on Canadian affairs, indicating unmistakably that the future of this country, its industrial features and commercial possibilities, are attracting attention in quarters likely to prove beneficial and stimulating. The most important of these essays is one on "Western Canada, Its Resources and Possibilities," by John W. Dufoe, editor of the leading newspaper of the prairie provinces, the Winnipeg Free Press. The descriptive portion of Mr. Dufoe's contribution deals entirely with farming and kindred industries on the fertile plains of the Northwest, but the author relies upon a reproduction of photographic scenes taken in Victoria and neighborhood to give artistic effect to the work of his pen. Pictures of homes and farm life on the prairies look commonplace alongside of the parliament buildings and a few of the charming homes of this city. The article is likely to have the effect of attracting immigration to Manitoba and the Northwest as the land of golden opportunities for the ambitious; but, that predominant human aspiration gratified, will not the successful man turn for real soul satisfaction to the province which presents the supreme possibilities in climate, scenery and physical enjoyment?

The article in the Review of Reviews illustrates something more than the scenic charms of Victoria and neighborhood; it portrays the value of the work being done by that much-assailed institution, the Tourist Association. If the representative in the West of Mr. Dufoe had not been received when in the city by the representative of the Association, treated with courtesy and furnished with copies of the photographs which have been reproduced, this neighborhood would not have enjoyed the benefits of a most effective advertisement. The case is but a sample of many others of recent occurrence. The Tourist Association is doing much work that the unreasonable, censorious critic wots not of.

The year 1906, according to an insurance company, established the most fatal record of disasters on land and sea of any year in the history of the United States. Motor cars contributed to fatalities not quite 500 deaths; 1,184 persons were killed in burning buildings, 2,985 were drowned. Explosions killed 622. Falling and collapsed buildings cut off 483 lives. Five hundred and nine persons were killed in mining accidents; 700 in cyclone storms; 206 died from lightning strokes, and electricity numbered 178 persons as its victims. Six hundred people were killed by the accidental discharge of firearms, and exactly the same number perished because of elevator accidents. Seven thousand pedestrians met death on the public streets. Teams killed 5,000. The loss of life by ocean disasters during 1906 was 2,193, and on the Great Lakes and rivers 155 lives were lost. Deaths due to hunting accidents totalled 74. Thirty-four thousand were killed while doing their day's work. Sixty thousand people were maimed and lost either hands, feet, legs, arms or eyesight.

The following from the Montreal Star indicates that the condition of the weather is still the cause of speculation and disquietude in the East: "There is probably no subject, with the possible exception of medicine, which lies so near to the life of every man as the weather, or more especially the climate. If we could even learn what to expect under certain conditions, we would be much better armed than we are now, but it is an impossible dream to fancy that we may learn how to affect atmospheric conditions and so produce artificially to even a slight extent the weather we desire." If our friends in the uncertain atmospheric zone desire meteorological conditions which can be relied upon, we advise them to come west and settle upon Vancouver Island, preferably in the neighborhood of Victoria. Nature is seldom in sulen mood here. Her weather productions are all the heart of man can desire.

A contemporary speaks of the "essential cowardice of rascality." One could scarcely conceive of a more thorough example of rascality incarnate than Mr. Harry Orchard. And yet there has hitherto been no evidence of cowardice in the cosmos of the Colorado assassin. He faces the court, the menacing countenances of the crowds who gather to see a man capable of such fiendishness, and the legal consequences of his confession without exhibiting the slightest evidence of physical fear. This is all the more remarkable from the evident fact that whether or not Orchard shall be held accountable to the state for his crimes, some one of his stratum will assuredly "get him" when the opportunity occurs. It does not do to generalize too "promiscuously" about the moral, mental or physical attributes of scoundrels.

After all, the life of a millionaire is not one grand round of golf and unalloyed happiness. If we had not read in an American newspaper that John D. Rockefeller had decided to increase his personal bodyguard we should never have supposed that such an institution, usually associated with the in-comings and the out-goings of kings, princes, presidents and potentates, was necessary to his comfort, possibly to his personal safety. Mr. Rockefeller, it seems, pays the men charged with the duty of protecting his life $150 per diem. He ought to be able to afford more than that without adding a cent a gallon to the cost of the products of the Standard Oil Company.

There is scarcely a magazine or periodical or newspaper issuing from the press of Great Britain or the United States to-day that is not dealing exhaustively with the possibilities of British Columbia in particular and Canada in general. After a critical examination of present conditions, future possibilities—development, aspirations, trade, etc.—comes the perplexing question, "What of the political future?" Each writer gives his own particular answer, but the Canadian is not disturbed by any thought of what may come to pass. He tells every inquirer to wait and see.

A contributor who has failed to sign his name to his communication sends us a brief treatise by Harold McGrath on the venomous anonymous correspondent. He avers that a great many unsigned letters have been dispatched through the mails in Victoria lately. Those in receipt of such documents should follow the example of editors of newspapers—tear them up. The first thing a newspaper man looks for is the signature of a correspondent. If the essential is not there, the letter is incontinently consigned to the department in charge of the "devil."

Mr. W. J. Bryan says the idea of President Roosevelt standing for a third term is outrageous. In this matter there is no reason to doubt that the man from Nebraska speaks from feeling and conviction. And yet Mr. Bryan has himself made several attempts to land in the White House. Why should he not practice what he preaches and give some other Democrat a chance? Surely he is not the only man in the party capable of filling, speaking and looking the part of Chief Magistrate of the great republic?

What Other People Think

SUDDEN DEATH AND PREMATURE BURIAL.

To the Editor:—Cases of sudden death similar to that reported in your valuable paper of April 30th are by no means rare occurrences. Sometimes the descriptions are of the most startling character. A friend of mine told me of a case where a young lady, who retired to rest perfectly well, was found in bed next morning speechless and immovable; was pronounced dead by the family doctor, and duly buried, notwithstanding the protests of relatives, who refused to believe that death had taken place. No post mortem was held, neither was there the slightest appearance of putrefaction up to the day of the funeral. It was supposed by the reprobates that the case was one of "trance" or "cataplexy," a peculiar disease which even the most experienced surgeons find it difficult to distinguish from real death. Many terrible mistakes have been made as the cause of revivification published in the press from time to time prove. The chances of recovery from trance are restricted to a brief interval between the supposed death and the funeral, and for so long a time there must be a considerable number never brought to light. Nor is this a mere theoretical opinion. Dr. Franz Hartmann, of Hallein, Austria, has taken the trouble to investigate this painful and much neglected subject, and has collected over 700 cases of premature burial, amongst which is the following: "Madame de P., aged 18 years, and subject to hysteria, apparently died, and for 40 hours presented signs of real death. All possible means of restoring her to life were taken, but proved of no avail. Five physicians of Lyons were called in, and they finally agreed, positively, that the lady was really dead. The funeral preparations were made, but, owing to the supplications of a sister of the deceased, the burial was delayed, when, after a while, the patient recovered. She said that she had all the time been aware of all that was going on without being able to make a sign, and without even being desirous of attempting it. A particularly painful case was not long since reported from Valencia, where a young woman of the village of Portes fell into so profound a cataleptic condition that she was declared to be dead. After all arrangements for the funeral were made, and friends and relatives were taking a farewell look at the supposed corpse, she sat up, and, terror-stricken at her surroundings, jumped from the window and was killed on the spot.

Speaking generally, the medical inspection of the presumed dead is quite insufficient to discriminate between cataplexy, which is often accompanied by what seems to be rigor mortis (where the patient, though conscious, is unable to make the slightest movement), and real death, the only determining proof of which last is putrefactive decomposition. The importance of the subject must be my apology for bringing these unpleasant details before your readers. A reform in the law of death certification, which should always include most careful death verification by means of scientific tests, is very urgently required. I should be happy to send a copy of the late Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson's "Signs and Proofs of Death" on receiving the cost of postage (1d.) only. Thanking you for your kindness, in the interests of humanity, —A day or two ago the Times announced the death at Vancouver of Victor William Auld, the nineteen-and-a-half-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Auld. It was only a year ago that he rejoined his parents and the home circle at that city. The family were formerly residents of Victoria, the father having been well known as a builder and contractor for over twenty-one years standing. Rev. A. M. Sanford, of the Princess Street Methodist church in Vancouver, conducted the funeral services from the family residence, 236 Jackson avenue, Vancouver, B. C.

—The fire department yesterday afternoon hauled out the big engine, Charles E. Redfern, which is seldom used in answering calls because of its heaviness, and subjected it to a test. The engine was taken down Cormorant street, below Government street, and connected with a hydrant, about 100 feet of hose was laid and the steam turned on. It did not give complete satisfaction, however, the steam pressure only reaching about 80 pounds. After a short time a small leakage was discovered about the fire box, and the test was temporarily suspended. A humorous incident occurred while the test was in progress. A gutter running under the sidewalk had become blocked, and before the excited Chinamen, who were for the most part curiously watching the engine discovered the fact, several cellars in the adjoining houses were flooded.

ADDITION TO STORE

Wilson Bros. Find It Necessary to Enlarge Their Premises.

Tenders are now being called for the extension to the premises of Wilson Brothers on Government street. The proposed extension will have a store frontage on "Tremont Alley" directly behind the C. P. R. telegraph, and will have a thorough communication with the rest of the store. The building will be but one story high for the present, but will be built so as to enable the building of additional stories as such is necessary. The new building will have as well a large and roomy basement.

Directly upon the acceptance of the tenders the work will be started and finished through to completion with all possible speed, the increasing trade of the firm making it necessary to find additional accommodation for their stock.

After testing 289 different kinds of seeds, the curator of the Oxford Botanic Garden came to the conclusion that very few retained their germinating power for more than eight years.

ALL IN READINESS FOR ATHLETIC MEET

Many Well Known Runners Will Compete—Seattle to Be Strongly Represented.

The final preparations have been made for the big field meet to be held at Oak Bay to-morrow. To-day the Y. M. C. A. athletic committee has been engaged in watering and rolling the track, and everything is now in perfect condition for the various events.

This morning twelve more entries were received from the Seattle athletic club, and among these are some of the best known athletes in the Sound city. In the seven-mile Marathon race Paxton will represent Seattle. Paxton is a famous long distance runner, and his greatest feat was when he ran second to the champion Canadian Indian athlete Longboat in the 19-mile race held at Hamilton last Thanksgiving Day. Another well known athlete who will compete in several events is Gish, of the Seattle A. C. Gish picked up a number of prizes at a meet held at the end of last season in Vancouver, and he is generally recognized as a dangerous opponent in sprint races.

Since yesterday another event has been added to the already lengthy programme. This is throwing the discus, and the Seattle boys have been so anxious that this should be included that they have announced that they are bringing over a discus with them.

The Seattle contingent will arrive on the Indianapolis to-morrow afternoon, and it is expected that the contestants will return by the Princess Victoria in the evening, so that beyond the time indicated in the various competitions they will not be lost in the city.

An event on the programme which has not yet to the present been announced is a 100-yard dash, confined to members of the local Y. M. C. A. For this item there will be a large entry, as there is no inconsiderable rivalry between the members of the institution as to their respective sprinting powers.

The following are the additional entries received this morning from the Seattle athletic club: Gish, entered for the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, broad jump and the relay race, Bretland, entered for the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards and the relay race. Hall, 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards and the relay race. Smith, 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, broad and high jumps, and the relay race. Vernon, 880 yards and the mile. White, 220 yards, 440 yards, 880 yards and the 220 yards hurdle race. Bantz, putting the 16-pound shot, throwing 16-pound hammer and throwing 56-pound weight. Anderson, putting 16-pound shot, throwing 16-pound hammer and throwing 56-pound weight. Holdman, 220 yards hurdle race, high jump, broad jump, throwing 16-pound hammer, putting 16-pound shot and pole vault. Thompson, 220 yards, 220 yards hurdle race and the broad jump.

THE NEW RHODES MAN.

T. Larsen, Who Is at Present in the City, Is a Worthy Representative.

Thorleif Larsen, who is by birth a Norwegian, and who recently obtained a Rhodes scholarship, is staying at the Gordon hotel. When he was studying for two years at the High school at New Westminster, where he received a general education, Mrs. Gordon, now of the Gordon hotel, of this city, was his musical instructor. Thorleif Larsen is a B. A. of Toronto University and hopes to obtain his M. A. before proceeding to Oxford, where he will become in all probability connected with Balliol College.

He is, of course, a good general all-round man, as fond of athletics as of study. His specialties in athletics are fencing and tennis. As he is captain of his fencing class, this in itself may obtain for him a half-blue as one of the representatives of Oxford against the sister University of Cambridge. He has the promise of a rowing or football man, and his many friends may very soon hear of him rowing in the classical race on the Thames, or of his being in the line game of English Rugby football in London against Cambridge.

OVERLOADED BOAT.

Craft Capsize and Four Members of Fishing Party Lost Their Lives.

O'Neill, Neb., June 6.—A fishing party had a sad and tragic ending at Wonders lake, eight miles southeast of Lago, the first station east of O'Neill, on the Great Northern railway. Four persons were drowned by a boat capsizing. The dead: Clinton Samson, aged 4 years; Morris Samson, aged 20 months; Mrs. Blanche Tracy, aged 39 years; Miss Alice Dunn, aged 20 years. A party of about thirty people living in the vicinity of Lago went to the lake in the forenoon to spend the day fishing. The accident occurred about noon, when a boat load of six persons started out on the lake and went down only about twenty feet from the bank. Two of the party, Mrs. Samson, wife of the man drowned, and H. W. Tracy, husband of one of the women, were rescued by the aid of fish poles. The bodies of the drowned were fished out with hooks and lines shortly after they sank.

The coroner's inquest found that overloading the boat caused the accident.

Phil Austin, of the J. B. A. A. will act as judge in the five-oared cutter race between the Royal Canadian Engineers and the Fifth Regiment, to be held on the Gorge Inlets to-morrow as announced in the sporting column.

IN CONVENTION

Yesterday Afternoon's Session's Encouraging Reports—Pleasant Time Last Night.

The afternoon session yesterday of the convention of the King's Daughters at present being held in this city, passed off very successfully.

Miss Brown conducted the devotional exercises at the opening. Encouraging progress was presented by the various district secretaries. Mrs. Chapman, of Vancouver, being the first to give to the meeting an account of district work. Owing to her large field of operations the Victoria district secretary's report was full of suggestions, resulting in a most valuable discussion which received a unanimous expression of opinion to support the work of the order, that they had every incentive and encouragement to induce them to persevere in striving for a still greater unity among the members.

Mrs. Watt, of the Metochin district, in her report pointed out the great abilities for future work besides suggesting other ways in which the order might be more generally useful.

Mrs. Macdonald gave an interesting account of conscientious work being carried on with most gratifying results in the Cowichan district.

A very instructive address, given by the Rev. W. Leslie Gray, on behalf of Dr. Fagan followed on the work of the anti-tuberculosis society. The reverend gentleman thanked the order for their generous contribution of $250 towards the building fund. This donation entitled the branch to elect three representatives to the board of management, from whom the board of directors will eventually be chosen. The speaker received a most hearty vote of thanks for the valuable information contained in his address and was at the same time assured of the continued sympathy and co-operation of the order in the great work being undertaken and carried on by the society.

The great feature of the session was Miss Brown's address on the work and objects of the order. Her thoughtful and impressive words produced a lasting impression upon all who listened to her with wrapt attention. She emphasized especially the higher side of the work of the society. The spiritual aspect of the work seemed in her hands to rise superior to all other branches of the work. In fact, all the other divisions seemed to be dependent upon this for force and life. She asked for the cultivation of this international spirit by all members of the order.

In the evening there was a soiree at the Alexandria Club, where a great number of the members assembled to meet Miss Brown, the Dominion Secretary of the society. Everyone was delighted to make the acquaintance of their charming and enthusiastic secretary. The social gathering was attended by all the officials of the order and the members. An interesting address was given by Miss Brown, who possesses the rare gift of saying the right thing in the brightest and most persuasive manner, when the time came for the breaking up of the guests there was a general regret felt that the time had arrived for them all to go home. Everyone agrees that the hard work of the session has been made light by the enjoyment and stimulating effect of the social evening in the Alexandria hall.

First American Helms—Do you think Lord De Broke would be an easy task?

Second American Helms—My dear, he has been an epidemic in society for the past few years.

THE NAVY LEAGUE.

Victoria-Esquimalt Branch to the Front—British Press Comments.

The highly gratifying information is at hand that the resolution moved by Capt. Olive Phillips-Wolley, seconded by Capt. W. F. Langley and passed unanimously at the close of an able address by the former gentleman at the annual meeting of the local branch of the league and called to "Canada," London, on the 15th of May, has been copied by a large number of leading papers in the Old Country from Lands-End to John-O'-Groats.

The resolution read as follows: "That it is the duty of the Navy League and of every patriotic Canadian, independent of party, to press in every way for a substantial contribution to that Imperial Navy upon which the very existence of Canada, as a portion of the Empire depends, and that this meeting believes that a plebiscite of the people of Canada (independent of party), would support this resolution."

Amongst the many from which the hon. secretary has received clippings may be mentioned London Daily Globe, London Echo, Pall Mall Gazette, Yorkshire Herald, The Leicester Post, London Telegraph, Manchester Evening News, Birmingham Daily Dispatch, Aberdeen Journal, Nottingham Daily Express, Sheffield Independent, Liverpool Evening Express. All these appearing within about forty-eight hours of the resolution being passed at this far west out-post of the Empire, to speak the activity of the issue in British circles as to the position of Canada relative to the Imperial Navy.

The full text of Mr. Phillips-Wolley's address has been printed and will be widely circulated by the Victoria-Esquimalt branch of the Navy League.

LORD CROMER HOME.

Great Welcome in London for "Strong Man of Egypt."

Lord Cromer has returned to London from Egypt. On the station platform there were gathered to meet him and to him honor royal personages and the chief representatives of the two great political parties.

Hats were raised as the train steamed up to the platform, bearing the great administrator whose name will go down to history. Everybody was effusive with expectation. Suddenly there appeared in the doorway of the carriage a mild-looking, bareheaded man, beneath whose tanned skin lurked a delicate pallor. He seemed surprised at the gathering before him. But he had no time to think about matters for he soon as he put foot on the platform the Prince of Wales gripped him by the hand and shook it heartily. Then came the Duke of Connaught, followed immediately by the Prime Minister with a genial word and smile.

Finally, the Lord Chamberlain walked with him out of the station, in order to escort him to Buckingham Palace to the presence of the King. At the Palace his Majesty welcomed Lord Cromer with extreme cordiality, expressing high appreciation of the work of the great pro-consul, and wishing him an early and complete restoration to health.

AMPHIBIOUS POLICE.

How Irish Constables Tried to Stop a Cock Fight.

About two hundred men from the counties of Derry and Antrim conducted an inter-county cock fight on one of the islands of Lough Neagh recently.

While the contest was going on, half a dozen policemen arrived on the shore of the lake, and as the cock fighters had taken all the boats, stripped off their tunics and swam to the island.

The police then appeared on the rock, and the cock fighters, who had been taken to the mainland, leaving the constables to swim after them.

RAYS OF SPRING SUN-SHINE.

HIS WISH.

Glady—I think the night Bob proposed he had me mesmerized and I had to do just as he wished me to do.

Grace—Oh! then you refused him, did you?

A POOR EXCUSE BETTER THAN NONE.

Mrs. Bryde—The idea of Charlie telling you he married me because of my beautiful voice. Why, you know I can't sing a note.

Miss Pinkster—Oh! He had to make some excuse, you know, the poor fellow!

HIS IN-COME.

Her Mother—What is your husband's income now?

Her Married Daughter—Well, it's usually anywhere between 1 and 4 o'clock in the morning.

A CRUEL NURSE.

Mrs. Writcup—Why did you discharge that nurse girl?

Mrs. De Swell—She kicked poor little Fido just for biting the baby.

"Before marriage he always looked as neat as if he had just stepped out of a bathbox."

"Yes, and now he looks as if his mother-in-law had sat on the bathbox."

"You will find my body on my wife's grave in the cemetery," a Preston man wrote to his friends at Sloughbridge. The letter was delivered, sooner than he anticipated, and when he went to the cemetery with a razor in his pocket he found the police waiting for him.

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD
A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

Miss Emma Cole Says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well.

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

A mother should come to her child's aid at this critical time and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Miss Emma Cole of Tallahoma, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years, I had soreness and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think I saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are passing from girlhood to womanhood, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge.

TUGBOAT WEDDING.

Lovers' Plan to Evade a Scottish Law—Tied Knot at Sea.

Nuptial knots have been tied at times in strange places and under peculiar conditions, but the place taken place for a wedding which has just taken place was perhaps unique, the ceremony being performed on board a tugboat in the Firth of Forth, not far from Leith.

The contracting parties were Norwegians, the bridegroom, Captain Olsen, being skipper of the steamer Unimak, while the bride was a lady named Miss Hansen. The Unimak arrived at Leith the other day with a cargo of wood, and it had been pre-arranged that the marriage ceremony should take place at the port on the ship's arrival. Miss Hansen, who is young and pretty, travelled all the way from Norway to take her place beside the bridegroom, but at the last moment it was discovered that the Scottish law forbade a marriage in Scotland unless the contracting parties had resided twenty-one days in the country.

This was the difficulty which had to be faced, but "necessity is the mother of invention," and the parties succeeded in overcoming the obstacle which presented itself in the way of their immediate union. They hired a local tug, and along with some friends, including the chief mate and chief engineer of the skipper's vessel, and a Norwegian minister, they steamed out to the Firth of Forth, where the knot was tied.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE RACE MEET

Driving Club Held Meeting Last Night to Perfect Arrangements—Everything Well Advanced.

Last evening at the Driford hotel there was a full meeting of the members of the Victoria Driving Club, at which the members of the various committees reported progress in the different branches of work in connection with arranging for and perfecting all the multifarious details of a successful race meeting.

Sportmen and all others directly and indirectly interested in the forthcoming meeting will be pleased to hear that every precaution has been taken to ensure a thorough preparation of the racing track before the day of the races.

The Mayor is agreeable to declaring the afternoon of the opening day a public holiday.

To all lovers of music a rare treat is to be provided. Wagner's famous Seattle band has been engaged to play on one of the days, while the Vancouver band is to play on another day, and in a deservedly popular band of the Fifth Regiment on another.

The committee are in fact sparing no expense to make the outside attractions of the meeting as attractive as possible. These accessories are absolutely necessary for a successful meeting.

The safety and life of a gathering like this is not merely dependent on the light-heartedness of those frequenting the course, but requires for its stimulus the strains of a good band to keep everything up to the mark and in harmony with the exciting fascinations of a race between the steeds.

Then as to the comforts of their waiters the committee are most particular in the consideration of every detail likely to secure a most enjoyable day. Those in the grand stand on the days of the races will find that every precaution has been taken against overcrowding in the way of obstructing the perfect view of the occupants of the stand.

Further, the committee purpose going to a considerable expense in order that those who are unable to afford the luxury of the grand stand shall have a fair and as good an opportunity as it is possible to have of viewing the races without having to stand on tip-toes, or to climb on each other's shoulders, or to crouch almost to the ground to get if possible a view of the races on account of vehicles having been allowed to draw up too close to the course.

This happily will not be the case in the forthcoming races. It has been decided to put in a space at least ten feet wide between the course and vehicles on the ground.

The officials will be as follows: Judges—J. A. Mitchell, Dr. S. F. Toimie, D. R. Ker, Walter Chambers and Goldie Wilson.

Timekeepers—Capt. A. J. Dallain, A. E. Wade and W. N. Mitchell. Assistant starter—F. H. Deppie. Clerk of the scales—J. Bothwell. Clerk of the course—W. C. Morehead. Three of the judges will act each day and the committee will select the men for the various days.

PERSONAL.
A. Maxwell Smith, Dominion fruit inspector, spent yesterday in Victoria, left today for the mainland. Mr. Smith said that he was pleased to find the fruit regulations so well observed in this city, having noted that all boxes were of a high standard and properly marked. Smith will shortly visit the Okanagan and Kootenay districts. Besides his position with the government he is secretary of the Northwest Fruit Growers' Association, which will hold its annual convention in December.

J. Parke Channing, a prominent consulting mining engineer of New York, is about to visit Atlin and the Yukon gold fields in the interest of the General Development Co. He will go direct from Seattle.

Thos. Kiddie, manager of the Alaska Smelting and Refining Co.'s smelter at Hadley, southeast Alaska, went to Seattle this afternoon to confer with Mr. Mumford, the new president of the company and of the Brown Alaska Company.

Duncan McIntosh, formerly manager of the Providence Mining Co., and still prominent in mining and commercial circles at Greenwood, is on a visit to the city.

IN DEFENCE OF TEA.
Some doctors denounce the drinking of tea; some defend it. Among the latest is Dr. N. E. Yorke-Davies, who, in a paper on "Reveries and Health," makes this statement: "First and foremost, as the most important and the most beneficial of all beverages, naturally comes tea. This seems to fill some want in the system that no beverage can satisfy. The active principle of tea, which is known as theine, is a powerful stimulant to the nervous system, but, unlike alcohol, it does no harm; indeed, it is a source and comfort to millions, and every succeeding year tea grows in popularity and favor. I am a strong advocate of tea as a beverage. If inordinate simply, Dr. Yorke-Davies asserts, because it is not properly made."

Civil and electrical engineering will be taught in Manitoba University, beginning with the fall term in October next.

NEW ZEALANDERS HERE.

They Are So Pleased With the City That They Would Like to Remain.

The R. M. S. Aorangi brought over on her present trip, a number of New Zealanders who are attracted by the higher rate of wages offered in the United States. They have been looking around the city since their arrival. If they had not already fixed upon their destination in the States, they would have stayed in Victoria. In fact, one at least of their number hopes to return here and settle down in this city.

In his opinion the chances of success are just as good in this province of British Columbia as they are in the States. He is also of opinion that the future prospects of any assiduous workman are better and brighter in the long run here than in the States.

It would seem that New Zealand is not a country for people to go to unless they have $1,500 and over, even then by the time they look round and get a place, plant it, and reap the harvest, they will have spent double the money before the land becomes their own. The New Zealand government are only inducing those to go out who will help them to lessen the burden on the present population. The present debt is over $250,000,000, and the population about 925,000. There is moreover no work in New Zealand for any more working people at the present time, hundreds cannot get employment. As for the fruit in the King country, there is no market for it. The rail and freight take away all the profit. A leading house, land and labor agent of Dunedin, N. Z., gives an instance of this. In one case, he says, a farmer sent 160 bags of potatoes from a country district. He had to cart them seven miles to the nearest station, pay rail charges and commission, and the only return he got was $5, which did not pay for his remuneration being possible in return for the long hours they have to work at a bare living wage have probably done well in leaving the country for another, where the prospects are brighter and the laborer is better paid.

NEW GRAND THEATRE.
A Good Bill at the Popular Music Hall This Week.

Few impersonators have won such signal success on the stage as Robert Furlong, who is at the New Grand this week. His portrayals of General Grant and Leg. President Lincoln and Washington, Robert Emmet, the great Irish patriot, and others are perfect, and the changes are made almost instantaneously. Other good numbers on this week's bill are: Geo. W. Evers, blackface comedian; Edward and Helene Casano in a novel dancing act; Maud I. Entwistle & Co., in a comedy playlet, "When the Widow Arrives"; Geo. F. Keane in the illustrated song, "Arrah Wanne," which, by the way, receives an encore at almost every show, and a very funny set of moving pictures entitled "Governance Wanted."

To-morrow afternoon there will be the usual Saturday children's 10c. matinee, and the week will close with the usual performances to-morrow night.

THE FINANCES OF THE CITY

EXPLANATIONS AS TO ALLEGED DEFICIT

His Worship Expects That it Will All Come Out Right—Aldermen's Views.

The statement made by Ald. Hall at Monday's meeting of the city council to the effect that there was a deficit of $38,000 in the revenue for the year when the amount of work to be done by the city was taken into consideration, has caused considerable discussion among those who are most interested in municipal matters. As the alderman pointed out, this deficit is much larger than that which has invariably faced the council at the beginning of the municipal years and it will be a heavy matter to make good the difference in the six months that is still before the present board.

This morning, Mayor Morley in discussing the situation with a Times reporter, took an optimistic view. He does not anticipate any difficulty in making good the deficit. "There has always been considerable misunderstanding each year of the city's financial status and the difference between the estimates and expenditure. In most years an average of $15,000 less than the amount estimated for expenditure has been spent, several committed not using all of their appropriations. I have no doubt whatever that the council will this year have sufficient money to carry out all work thought to be necessary."

Last year the council approved of certain improvements to the police court and the north end of the city hall as well as certain work on the market hall. The improvement of the city police court was carried out but the remainder of the work was left over in consequence of lack of funds. A report from the building committee recommending that this work be proceeded with, was presented to the council for ratification on Monday evening next. In view of the anticipated stricture in the city's finances, however, several members of the committee are said to oppose the recommending of this course until the council can see its way clear to increase the revenue by the sale of land not used for exhibition purposes and other property or by some other means.

Ald. Fullerton is among the aldermen who take this view. "I am directly opposed to any course which will result in the raising of the rate this year," he said to a Times reporter. "I think that the rate is already high enough when the additional expenditure to property-holders caused by the adoption of the local improvement plan is taken into consideration. Until some solution to the city's financial trouble is found I will not be a party to recommending an appropriation for the work proposed on the city hall and market building."

In regard to this matter, Mayor Morley is also optimistic. "I feel sure that the work will be carried out this year," he said. "There should be no difficulty in finding the money." The assessment roll shows a revenue of something over half a million dollars if last year's rate is maintained, according to Ald. Hall, and the expenditure is according to the same alderman, about $38,000 more than the revenue. Unless the sale of part of the exhibition park and that part of James Bay flats which is owned by the city materializes, it is in the opinion of several of the aldermen, impossible to make up the present anticipated deficit without increasing the rate.

NEW EQUIPMENT.

Margison Bros. Have Installed Practically a New Plant to Handle Trade.

Margison Bros., recently established in the new premises, 35 Wharf street, have installed a number of new machines and are now prepared to handle all contracts for folding-box making, ruling blank files and bill heads, and commercial and color printing. These additional machines, which have been installed, are all of the latest approved design, having all the newest devices, and this places the firm in a position to fulfill even the largest orders with the greatest expedition.

Some of the machines are most ingeniously constructed, the folding-box cutter especially, which can be adjusted to cut cardboard of almost any size to any desired shape. Another interesting device is the gluing machine by which the boxes, after being cut out, are glued and then pressed together by being passed through a series of rollers.

They have installed as well a John Thompson hand press, the only one in the city containing a double inking device. This is the newest invention in hand presses, and is claimed to be ahead of the old single inking style.

In the upper portion of the building is a very complicated-looking apparatus known as a Morrow Perfection ruling machine, by means of which lines of any color or thickness, single, double or triple, can be ruled.

In addition to this is the rule-bending machine, the perforators and as well a fret sawing device for cutting out the box forms.

The whole machinery is run by electricity.

Margison Bros. have on hand at present several large orders from Vancouver merchants as well as from several local firms. They are importing large quantities of cardboard and paper, and with such an efficient plant they will assuredly have no difficulty in securing all the work they can handle.

Alexander McKensie, second son of William McKensie, president of the Canadian Northern railway, died suddenly at Toronto on Thursday night of appendicitis.

YACHTING.

EMPEROR'S CUP.

Eight entries have been received at the Royal Yacht Squadron's headquarters at Cowes for the yacht race from Dover to Heligoland for the cup presented by the German Emperor.

They are the Navahoe, yawl, Susanne, and Clara, schooners, all German representatives; Elizabeth and Lusta, schooners, and Lavengro, ketch, French boats; and Adela, schooner, and Carhad, ketch, both from Southampton. But for racing on the Clyde, which commences about the middle of June, the entries would have been more numerous.

GOLF.

IRISH SUCCESSES.

It was exactly a decade ago that it was recognized in England and Scotland that ladies' golf in Ireland had attained a position which justified the holding of the Ladies' Championship in the Emerald Isle. At that first Ladies' Championship on Irish soil, which was held at Newcastle, the scene of her third victory, Miss May Hazlet, at the early age of 16, won her first championship. Since then Ireland's preponderance in golf has never been quite lost. She has not, it is true, succeeded in securing the Ladies' Championship on every occasion, but mainly due to Miss May Hazlet and Miss Rhonda Adair, she has scored far more than her share of victories. On five out of nine occasions Ireland has won the Ladies' Championship. The "disgraceful country," has, in addition, supplied six out of the nine runners-up, and three times provided both players in the final. Irish ladies may well pride themselves on the high distinctions they have won in golf.—Irish Field.

GAME AT ROYAL CITY.

There will very likely be several changes in the line-up of the New Westminster team for their big game with the Maple Leafs at Queen's park, New Westminster, to-morrow. Len Turnbull, who figured prominently at Vancouver last Saturday, will replace Henry at outside home. If Tom Gifford does not play on Saturday, there is a possibility that he will not. Spring, the fast intermediate player, will be given a trial.

In the personnel of the Maple Leafs only one change will be made. Smith, a newcomer, who has turned out regularly and gives promise of a speedy player, will be given an opportunity to show what he is made of. As both teams are in the pink of condition the game promises to be most exciting.

ATHLETICS.

PHYSIOLOGICAL RACES.

The Marathon Club of Berlin has issued a programme of two international long distance races, which will be contested at Berlin on July 20th and 21st: (1) International Marathon race of 40 kilometres (25 miles); (2) round Berlin long distance walk of 220 kilometres (137 miles). These contests will be held under conditions such as to secure that physiological observations of high importance shall result from them. Every competitor will be required to fill up a paper of questions drawn up by Professor Zuntz, rector of the Academy of Agriculture in Berlin, who has undertaken to arrange for the scientific study of the competitions, and all competitors will be medically examined before and after the contest. The results obtained by Professor Zuntz will be used only for scientific purposes, and under pledge of the strictest secrecy.

LONGBOAT WINS AGAIN.

Tom Longboat, the Ojibwa Indian, of Toronto, Ont., easily defeated Frank Nebrich, of Buffalo, in a three-mile foot race at Kenilworth park, Buffalo, last week. Nearly 20,000 people crowded the stands and overflowed upon the track. The crowd swarmed back and forth while the minor events were being run off, and when the time came for the big race fully half the spectators had lined up on either side of the course.

Longboat's manager refused to allow the Indian to appear until some semblance of order was restored, and it was nearly 6 o'clock before the two runners lined up for the start.

When the men were finally sent away Nebrich stepped into the lead, and held it for the first mile. The pair simply jogged the first lap of the mile course. Longboat assumed the lead in the second mile, and kept it to the finish. It was not until the last quarter, however, that the real test came, and when Longboat began his sprint Nebrich failed to meet it. Longboat was leading by fully thirty yards in the last sixteenth, when Nebrich quit. The crowd closed in at the finish, and some one tripped Longboat, sending him sprawling over the line. This had no effect on the result, as Nebrich had slowed down to a walk.

The time for the three miles, 16:04 2-5, was nearly a minute and a half slower than the American record for the distance.

NEW TROPHY.

The ladies of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club held a special meeting yesterday at which a letter was read from A. C. Flumerfelt, president of the club, announcing his donation of a new trophy for competition among the lady players. This cup will be known as the Victoria Flumerfelt cup for ladies, and the conditions governing the trophy provide that competitors must be residents of Victoria for at least twelve months previous to the tournament, and further, that the cup must be won three years in succession to become the permanent property of the winner.

On July 25th the club will hold its open tournament and the new cup will be then put up for the first time. From the ladies' standpoint this will be far the most important feature of the tournament. It is expected that the coming tournament will be well attended. Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland will send representatives, and an excellent programme has been arranged.

The ladies at their meeting yesterday decided upon their committee for the ensuing season. It consists of Mrs. R. Dunsinuir, Mrs. W. Burton, Miss Pitts, Mrs. Crow Baker, Mrs. Flumerfelt, Miss Pooley, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Prior, Mrs. Rithet, Mrs. Pooley and Mrs. F. Pemberton. Mrs. Genge was elected secretary.

THE RAIL.

A SPORTING RACE.

To-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock two crews representing the Royal Canadian Engineers and the Fifth Regiment will race in five-oared cutters on the Gorge Inlet. The course will lie from the Gorge bridge, round Deadman's Island and return.

At the Victoria Day celebration regatta a race for five-oared cutters was on the programme. Only one five-oared boat put in an appearance, namely, the Fifth Regiment, all the others being fours. The race resulted in a series of fouls, the Fifth Regiment being the most sinned against. At the finish of this race the Royal Canadian Engineers were leading, with the Fifth Regiment and the Garrison Artillery dead-heating for second place. The race was awarded by the judges to the Fifth Regiment.

Much dissatisfaction was expressed at the decision by the Royal Canadian Engineers. The day following the race a challenge appeared in the columns of the Times from Lieut. Hughes on behalf of the Engineers to race the Fifth Regiment again for $100. The challenge was accepted with the conditions that each crew should be a five-oared cutter, and the race will take place to-morrow, as stated above, from the Gorge bridge at 2 p. m. The following are the competing crews: Royal Canadian Engineers—Stroke, Corp. Eastuk; No. 2, Sapper Johnson; No. 3, Sapper MacIntyre; No. 4, Sapper Dunn; No. 5, Lance Corp. Deigan; coxswain, Sapper Maloney.

Fifth Regt.—Stroke, Gunner Logan; No. 2, Corp. Thrall; No. 3, Gunner Target; No. 4, Gunner Price; No. 5, Gunner Carmichael; coxswain, Corp. Ross.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

DECIDING MATCH.

On Sunday next on the Caledonian grounds, Nanaimo, the Nanaimo United and Ladysmith Association football teams will meet. Sunday's game, which will be the deciding match between the two teams, which have already met twice, will be for the British Columbia challenge cup and twelve handsome medals.

The first game, played at Ladysmith, was won by the home team by the score of 2-1, and the second game was won by the Nanaimo eleven on their home ground by a score of 4-2. This necessitated the deciding match.

CRICKET.

GAME TO-MORROW.

The Victoria Cricket Club eleven who will meet the Oak Bay Cricket Club at Oak Bay to-morrow afternoon will be: J. C. Barnacle (captain), A. F. R. Martin, W. J. D. York, J. S. Meredith, Q. D. H. Warden, W. P. Good, Baker, W. Grogan, L. Conroy, F. W. Ashby and Reginald Hall. The game will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

As good a suit of clothes as money can buy—as good a cloth as the English mills can produce—in the finest worsted fabrics—and in the latest woven patterns, $35.

That kind of a suit costs money. It's what the trade terms "high-priced stuff," and the fashionable tailors exact $50 and $60 a suit for it.

WE have captured that trade by making these Suitings for $35—In both Sack and Shooting Coat styles.

And our $35 Suits are sold extensively in Victoria. We are ever aiming to get some of the very exclusive things which the Bond street tailors sell for $75. But our price will be $40.

DR. TORRINGTON'S FINAL SERVICE AT THE METROPOLITAN CHURCH

Dr. Torrington terminated last night, his long and capable office as organist of the Metropolitan church, says a recent issue of the Toronto News. For the last time he conducted the musical service and thus closed an eventful chapter of his professional activity. To the credit of the congregation and as an indisputable proof of their ardent esteem of their veteran organist it must be said that the service was quite after Dr. Torrington's own heart. Such mighty congregational singing has seldom been heard in Toronto. Everybody who owed any allegiance to the church at all seemed to be there. Long before seven o'clock, every seat in the body of the church and in the gallery was taken. Chairs were brought in and promptly filled up. People swarmed down the gallery aisles and sat on the steps while many were content to stand throughout the service. The choir also turned out in full strength and gave an especially good account of themselves. While little public reference was made to it being Dr. Torrington's farewell there was no mistaking the fact that the service assumed particular significance on that account.

It was the church's final tribute to him as choir-master. The singing lacked nothing in enthusiasm and warmth. After the service Dr. Torrington was delayed some time receiving the personal good wishes of his many friends at the Metropolitan.

While the choir sang few anthems they were all long familiar favorites of Dr. Torrington's. Sullivan's "Lost Chord" was rendered with grandeur and exalted import; while Handel's inspired "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" was a strong reminder of that great oratorio's identity with the name of Dr. Torrington in this city. The organist remained standing during its rendition. Dr. Torrington's accompaniment was fluent and vigorous—a labor of love.

Mr. Arthur Bligh, baritone soloist in the choir, feelingly sang an appropriate arrangement of "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

During the offertory Dr. Torrington played another favorite of his which he has so often rendered at his organ recitals—Schumann's "Träumerei" and "Romanza."

The pastor, Rev. S. Cleaver, preached upon the text, "God has raised me up to preserve life." He said that no man had a right to use for himself alone a gift of God. Dr. Torrington might well have been mentioned as a practical example of Mr. Cleaver's remarks. With a rich natural musical endowment and many calls upon his services he has for many years found both time and altruistic inclination to present the highest forms of sacred music in the great oratorios of Handel, Haydn, Mendelssohn and Gounod. Dr. Torrington has inspired through that medium better choir singing in Toronto and strengthened the dignity of a great art.

For thirty-three years Dr. Torrington has been organist and choir-master at the Metropolitan, maintaining during that time a volunteer choir of between sixty and eighty voices, always conspicuously for efficient training. In 1888 Dr. Torrington came to Canada from England, and for twelve years he was organist of St. James' Methodist church, Montreal, and during that time he established several orchestral and vocal societies in that city. In 1872 he accepted the post of organist of the Metropolitan church and conductor of the Toronto Philharmonic Society. In Dr. Torrington's choir at the Metropolitan many fine voices have been trained. From this body has emanated much of the finest choral material with which Toronto appears to have been doubly blessed. In Dr. Torrington's many performances of the great oratorios he has always found his choir loyal and ardent, and a stimulation to the remainder of the chorus. He has established fine traditions in the choir's gallery at the Metropolitan, which have made the bulk of his fellow-members proud to be of his choir.

Dr. Torrington is now seventy years of age. His musical activity will be centred hereafter upon the Toronto College of Music, of which he is founder and director.

LORD CURZON

His Return to English Political Life.

Lord Curzon is emerging, Chancellor of Oxford at this moment, in Parliament—unless the babal that is working against him can prevent or postpone it a few months hence, and from then onwards one of the dominant and most fascinating figures in our public life, foreign secretary before many years are over, prime minister in the fulness of time. It is not less than a national event that a career of such ample distinction and achievement and of still ampler possibilities should be about to be taken up once more.

It is nearly nine years since Lord Curzon left the House of Commons. He will return a changed man to a changed assembly. The Parliament of to-day is very different from the Parliament of 1898, but not more so than the Lord Curzon of to-day is different from the Lord Curzon of 1898. Under the secretary of foreign affairs in Lord Salisbury's government, Time, friction, and responsibility have immensely matured him. He went out to India a prodigy; he has come back a statesman. I venture to predict that when Lord Curzon steps again into the arena both the House and the country will realize with a shock of pleasurable surprise the extraordinary powers and aptitudes that unite in him.

A Surprise Appointment.

It is odd to recall nowadays the start of astonishment and apprehension with which England heard the news of his appointment to the Viceroyalty of India. Disraeli hardly raised a greater commotion when he nominated Bulwer Lytton to the same high office. For some Lord Curzon was too young, a fantastic objection, because Curzon is precisely one of those men—Winston Churchill is another—who never have been and never could be really young. For others he was too inexperienced; he had held no administrative office; he had written books with an anti-Russian bias running through them; supported the forward policy; had worse than no knowledge of India, because he knew it merely as a tourist; was too cocksure of himself and a great deal too patronizing.

It seems laughable enough now. But in 1898 the House was only just beginning to understand Lord Curzon and to pierce through his little mannerisms to the real man behind them. It admitted him, but it rather laughed at him. He was too much like the younger Pitt in his cold contempt for the stupidity of his fellow-mortals who made the bulk of his fellow-members. Curzon and the Oxford manner, being heavy upon him, and upon all times, he seemed consequential at all times. Lord Curzon, assuring the House that he could not be responsible for the peace of Europe unless the member for Puddletown stopped talking as once was one of the daily delights of an assembly that has to depend on the little things of life for its relaxation and amusement. His foibles were exactly of the kind that Westminster has always found it hardest to forgive; and what Mr. Labouchere used to call "the sport of taking Curzon down a peg or two" became a regular Radical pastime.

Manifold Gifts.

But it was a pastime not without its dangers. Few men came out of an encounter with Lord Curzon feeling that they had had the best of it. The average M. P. stood no chance whatever against his gorgeous rhetoric, his mastery of the grand manner, and the annoying fact that he not only pronounced all the foreign names correctly, but had been to them, written of them, and thought to know. It was scarcely this quality of overachievement that those who knew the Indian bureaucracy best predicted would be his chief stumbling block. The society and officialdom of Simla prefer the kind of Viceroy who looks well on horseback, who puts himself frankly in the hands of the civil service, who presides, but does not attempt to govern, and who is content to receive his policies and his information at third or fourth hand.

Lord Curzon never had any intention of being a Viceroy of that stamp. He landed in India with a policy; he proceeded at once to unfold it; and up to the very moment of his resignation he was remorselessly absorbed in carrying it out. Perhaps that is why Mr. Viceroy has ever been so abundantly criticized or has aroused so much personal and political, such heated disagreement. The strength of his self-assurance, his merciless insistence on efficiency, the vast sweep of his reforms, the true character of his policies, and his unshakable resolve to deal fairly all round—all these characteristics roused up against him, singly or together, a vast array of antagonisms.

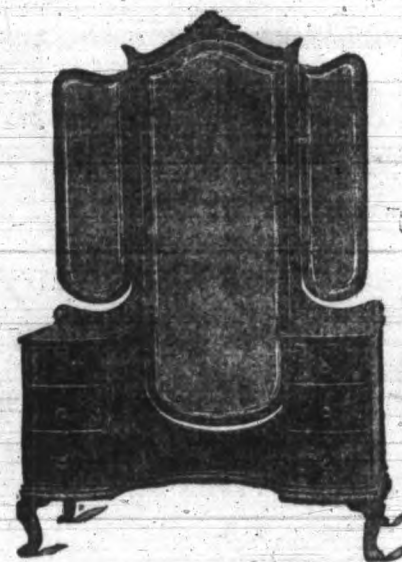

The Bengalis whom he returned to their untruthfulness, the British regiment whom he publicly disgraced because it failed to discover and punish the private who had murdered a native, the feudatory princes whom he admonished on statesmanlike lines but somewhat in the tone of a reproving schoolmaster, the veteran civil servants whom he browbeat, overruled, out-gauged, and made to feel that he was Viceroy in fact as well as name, and the society people—Lord Curzon is altogether a man's man—whom his bearing repelled, had all their special grievances against him. No one ever rattled the bureaucratic bones as he did. He made as little effort as does Mr. Roosevelt to cultivate the small, softening graces and the social instinct that came so easily to Lord Dufferin. No Viceroy, on the other hand, ever worked harder or accomplished more, or proved so great an inspiration to the zeal and practicality of those under him.

A Great Viceroyalty.

And most of the unpopularity that gathered round him was of the kind that did him honor, and could not have been avoided without a sacrifice of duty. Admitting that some of it was gratuitously incurred, and constituted a real political defect in his administration, it is still more unbridled partisanship to pretend that it outweighs or nullifies the immense value of his practical achievements. It is not possible as yet to assess those achievements at anything like their true worth. The data are lacking or are only partially forthcoming; and no judgment of his policy in Tibet, in Afghanistan, on the Indian frontier and in Persia, can escape altogether the charge of being premature. But enough is known to make one believe that never have the foreign affairs of India, which are the pivot of all British

VICTORIA THE COLLEGE CITY

LARGE INSTITUTIONS TO BE ESTABLISHED

University School So Successfully
Conducted at Present to Be Extended in Scope.

Preliminary steps have been taken toward the establishment in Victoria of a large educational institution on the lines of the public schools of England, where boys whose parents so desire may obtain first class educational advantages amid surroundings similar in many respects to those with which English seats of learning are associated.

There are, at the present time, several of these private schools for boys in Victoria, but, notwithstanding that accommodation for residence is being constantly enlarged, they are taxed to the utmost to provide room for their pupils.

One of the remarkable features in connection with them is that the pupils are largely recruited from points outside Victoria, coming from all quarters of the interior, from the Territories, Vancouver, from the North-western states and even from the Asiatic side. Then later on the children of the official colony and English merchants in Japan and China who formerly sent their children home to England for education, but who find it more difficult to obtain facilities in Victoria, two weeks' steaming from their homes.

The present movement is the outcome of a desire on the part of a number of wealthy gentlemen residing in Victoria, Vancouver, Winnipeg and other places to provide facilities on a generous scale to educate the boys who wish to come to this city, Victoria, and to send them to a school where they can receive a seat of learning and its unique surroundings and climate are now so fully recognized that it is felt no further time should be lost in providing these scholastic facilities.

The nucleus of the proposed college will be provided by the University which in the short time in which it has been in existence has had phenomenal success. Messrs. Bolton and Macfarlane are now crowded for room, and the question of larger quarters has become imperative. The syndicate mentioned propose to acquire a suitable site and erect buildings thereon, the plans being capable of further expansion as the demand increases.

Negotiations are in progress for the Marine Hospital in Esquimalt as temporary quarters for the school. The University school staff has recently been augmented by the addition of C. E. Falkner, B. A., a classical scholar man of affairs and late assistant master at the famous Harlebury public school, England. The two principals being Cambridge and London University men, the addition of Mr. Falkner makes an exceedingly strong and representative leading staff. This will be further augmented for the fall term by which time it is hoped new premises will be ready for occupation.

BOUNDARY WAGE SCALE

Rate of Pay That Will Prevail Hereafter in the District.

While the month of May has shown the smallest output from the mines and smelters of the Boundary for years primarily due to the coal miners' strike in the Crow's Nest Pass country, matters are now in such shape that a heavy output is fully anticipated for the future—heavier by far than ever before, says a Phoenix dispatch. While the coal miners' strike was on, or just before it, the miners and smelters employed in the Boundary also requested that they be given a raise in wages by the managers of the Boundary's big producers. This matter has been thoroughly considered by the managers, with the result that a schedule was submitted to the miners, which was accepted by them, by a referendum vote, by a big majority.

The vote was taken by the several unions in the Boundary last week, Greenwood Miners' Union, No. 22, and Phoenix Union No. 8, voted on the miners' scale, the result being 247 in favor and 75 against. This definitely settles the scale of wages for all men employed in the Boundary mines for the future, and gives all underground men an advance of 50 cents per day, and those employed above ground receive an advance of 10 per cent. over the pay heretofore received. The full scale, as submitted and agreed on, is as follows:

Raising above 40 feet, 14.50; sinkers, 14.50; machine men, 14; barmen, 14.25; muckers, 13.50; nipplers, 13.50; chute-men, 13.75; chute-men helpers, not handling powder, 13.50; timbermen, 14; timbermen helpers, 13.50; underground drivers, not caring for stock, 13.50; underground drivers, caring for stock, 13.75; loading and unloading and handling powder, 14; blasters, 14.50; blasters' helpers, not splitting holes, 13.50; blacksmiths, 14.40; blacksmiths' helpers, 13.75; cage tenders, 13.50; skip tenders, 14; station tenders, 13.75; tunnelers, 14; laborers, 13.20; carpenters' helpers, 13.20; machinists, 14.40; compressor engineers, 14.40; motormen, 13.50; head brakemen, 13.50; back brakemen, 13.50; electrician helpers, 13.50; framers, 13.50; steam motormen, 14.40; holstmen, double drum, 14.50; holstmen, single drum, one or two shifts, 14.25; holstmen, single drum, three shifts, 14; engine-men, 13.50; engine-men's helpers, 13.50; teamsters,

Miners at Lethbridge Receive Increased Pay—Contract is for Two Years.

Lethbridge, June 6.—A mutual agreement has been arrived at by the Alberta Railway & Irrigation company and the United Mine Workers' Union and a contract has been signed for two years, ending March 31st, 1909. The department of labor at Ottawa has been notified that there will be no occasion for a board of conciliation. The mine manager of the Bankhead mine acted as mediator in bringing about a conference between the different parties to the agreement, which is signed by General Manager Naismith for the A. R. & I. company and by Messrs. Patterson, Calvin, D. McNab, S. A. B. Crabb, Steve Begalia and John Boris for the union. It was called at a meeting of the union on Tuesday night. The contract is in the nature of a compromise, each side conceding something. The company agrees to recognize the union. The working day is to be eight hours at the place of work. The men are not to come up by the lift during the eight hours. The pay is to be at the rate of so much per hour in the case of men who are not on piece work. In some cases this is an increase of wages. In other respects conditions and terms of employment remain much as at present.

Terms Satisfactory.

Winnipeg, June 6.—A. M. Nanton, managing director of the Alberta Railway company, speaking of the terms of the arrangement made with the employees of the mine at Lethbridge, stated that the matter was arranged amicably and directly with their employers, as they stated to the minister what they would be able to do if there was no interference or hasty action in attempting to appoint an arbitration board when the department had notified the company that the minister had decided to appoint a board. This, Mr. Nanton states, was before the company had had an opportunity of representing its side of the case to the department, and was the chief reason for opposing the arbitration board, as the company believed and is now justified by the result of the negotiations directly between the parties, that if left to themselves, the parties could easily arrive at an understanding. The terms of the agreement Mr. Nanton regards as satisfactory. They are that the "open shop" is recognized, involving the principle that there will be no discrimination between union and non-union men. So far as the company is concerned, Mr. Nanton states, that this has always been the case, but it is now definitely agreed to on both sides. The expense of mining coal will to some extent be increased by the terms and increase of wages agreed upon and this will ultimately have the effect of increasing the cost of coal to the consumer, but this seems to be the gradual tendency in all communities at the present time. The agreement will stand about two years. It is believed that the spirit in which the matter has been approached on both sides will assure satisfactory results during the term agreed upon.

DELIBERATE SUICIDE

Man Stood on Railway Line Until Train Struck Him.

What appears to be a second and successful attempt at suicide occurred on the line of the C. P. R. near Rennie on Friday, says the Winnipeg Press, when T. Williams, deliberately stood in front of the express and was struck by it. The force of the rapidly moving train threw his body into the air and it crashed through the brushwood at the side of the track for a distance of over 100 feet. When the mangled body was picked up there was not the slightest evidence of life, and it is the opinion of physicians that death resulted immediately.

The victim was identified by papers found in his clothing as T. Williams, who had been employed on a section gang in the neighborhood of Saskatoon. The victim was observed standing on the track the previous day by the engineer of a freight train, who gave the necessary signals of warning. The man did not pay any attention to them and remained on the track directly in front of the train until the locomotive was stopped a few feet from him by the engineer, who thought that he must be deaf. Getting off his engine he shouted to Williams, and as the train pulled away the latter, who seemed to be in an irresponsible state, got on the track again. It appears that he again walked on the track Friday and did not heed the approaching passenger train which struck him, causing instant death. The trainmen are of the opinion that the man was demented and committed suicide in a most deliberate manner, and that it was his intention to allow the freight train to strike him on the previous day.

FORCED TO CLOSE WORKS

Employees Took Holiday to Welcome Baseball Players.

Steubenville, Ohio, June 6.—The Acme Glass Works, employing 1,200 men, was idle to-day because some of the baseball enthusiasts there stopped to welcome Needham and Bates, of the Boston Nationals, who arrived yesterday. The absence of these men crippled the works. To-day many others were missing, and it was decided to shut down altogether for the day. The day was given over to the ball players and their friends.

Profits of British railways taked last year amounted to 414 millions, and of the U.S. to 204 millions.

ILL-TREATMENT OF JAPS AT 'FRISCO

Bargu Okuma Appeals to American Public to Stop Outrages in Bay City

New York, June 6.—Count Okuma, former leader of the progressives, the opposition party in Japan, in response to a request by New York World, cabled that paper the following opinion regarding the incidents in 'Frisco, in which Japanese are involved.

"I deeply regret that anti-Japanese outrages are being repeated in 'Frisco. We as a nation were not satisfied with the settlement of the last school incident, which resulted in unjust discrimination against and the actual expulsion of Japanese immigrants. We patiently hoped that the principles laid out in the enlightened message of President Roosevelt last December would prevail and every unjust discrimination against Japanese would be stopped. The repetition of injustice against the Japanese will seriously hurt our warm feeling toward America and our traditional friendship will be weakened thereby. Fair and just treatment is essential to maintain that friendship. Repeated outrages will not only damage American interests, but also discredit American civilization.

"For the sake of justice and humanity, I sincerely appeal to the American public to stop the boxer-like outrages and unfair discrimination against Japanese and pray that Washington's far-sighted address will not be forgotten by the American people."

Prompt Action Necessary.

An experienced diplomat, who was a protégé of Marquis Ito, quite a prominent figure in national affairs, said to-day to the Associated Press: "America is the last country from which I expect communications with Japan. The traditional friendship of the two nations uniformly maintained by the government at Washington makes me almost hesitate to believe that an anti-Japanese sentiment exists in Uncle Sam's territory, though the unfortunate occurrences stand unanswerable. But before forming a final judgment in the present instance, it is absolutely necessary to bear in mind that in America the autonomy of the various states is jealously guarded, and the slightest infringement or interference by the national authority is deeply resented. Consequently the Federal government is in a most delicate position.

"Fortunately the chief executive of the United States is a wonderful personality. Judging by his speeches and writings, he might be called the incarnation of the principles of Bushido. There is no doubt that he is resolute enough to cut this Gordian knot. The Japanese cause in the present instance is right throughout, beyond the shadow of a doubt. This is a fact impossible to escape the enlightened judgment of a person like President Roosevelt. I confidently expect that justice will be meted out, and the anger his action in this matter is made known the better."

THE MAYOR'S VIEWS

On the Spring Ridge Resolution—He Is Indifferent.

With reference to the resolution passed at the meeting of Spring Ridge property owners at their meeting on Tuesday evening to the effect that Mayor Morley's scheme for the abatement of the gravel pits nuisance be rejected and that the council be asked to expropriate the whole of the property in question, His Worship informed the Times to-day that he was indifferent to the actual way in which the solution of the problem was accomplished so long as it was effectual.

"My first idea of abating the nuisance," he said, "was along the lines of purchase, but the second suggestion that I made seemed to be more feasible. I am of the opinion that the property owners will reap all the benefit accruing from the increased value of their holdings when the matter is settled, if a solution is reached by which they do not relinquish their rights. I do not care which scheme is adopted as long as it can be carried out. Of course it rests with the council to decide whether the course recommended by the Spring Ridge people is feasible or not."

MACHINERY GOES NORTH.

Prince Rupert may be quiet just now, but the impression given a few days ago at Vancouver by a shipment of electric machinery which went north, consigned to that place, indicates that the promoters of the north-west project intend making all the progress possible in building up the city and making it as modern and lively as the neighboring settlements. Indeed, once the plant is in operation, the electric company which is installing the system for lighting up the city, state that the best terminal metropolis will be the best equipped town in the North in the way of possessing modern conveniences. Once the lighting plant is in working order, telephones will be installed and business transactions will be facilitated wonderfully.

The machinery for Prince Rupert went north on the steamer Capilano, of the Union Steamship Company. The steamer will discharge her cargo at the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway's wharf and it will be taken away immediately and put in shelter until the power house is ready for operation. Besides this important cargo, the Capilano carried explosives for several of the towns along the coast. She will be away from Vancouver about ten days after which she will relieve the freighter Coquitlam on the northern British Columbian route for a trip.

MORE ENGLISHMEN AT SEA.

In a brief chat which a London journalist had with Mr. R. D. Holt, the Liberal member for Hexham, and head of the well known Blue Funnel line of steamers, the newly-elected parliamentarian thus spoke in reference to the employment of Chinese on his ships:

"We are doing nothing exceptional. Every shipowner in the trade, including the P. & O. company, is carrying Asiatic firemen, and, indeed, the British mercantile marine could not be manned without the employment of foreigners. If my opponents want to shipowner to employ foreigners they should take it up as a national question, at all. It is not relevant to this contest at all. As a matter of fact, there are more Englishmen at sea now than ever before, but the mercantile marine has grown far faster than the supply of British seamen. Every Chinaman on our ships sign exactly the same agreement as the Britishers on board, from the chief officer downwards."

As a P. & O. chief officer, Mr. Holt said that the Britishers on board were not only better paid but were also better treated than the Chinese.

NELLIE G. THURSTON SOLD.

The Nellie G. Thurston, which has been lying in Nanaimo harbor since her trip last winter to the west coast fisheries, has been sold by Captain Bradford, her owner, to E. G. Fader, of New Westminster, to be used as a fishing boat up the northern coast. The ship was built 22 years ago, but is to-day as sound as the day she was built. She is made of Ohio white oak. The vessel came around the Horn during the Klondike rush. Capt. Bradford purchased her about a year and a half ago. The schooner just missed being famous a year ago, when Capt. Mikkelson, who is now making his dash for the pole, went to Nanaimo to purchase her for the Arctic trip. She had been chartered, however, a day or two previous to his visit there.

FOR BUOY WORK.

The marine and fisheries department at Ottawa is inviting tenders for the delivery in Victoria of a wooden scow, and the erection on board of a steel derrick with hoisting engine and other accessories according to specification; also for supplying and delivering at Victoria where directed, a double cylinder tandem hoisting engine, which is to have four hoisting drums and two winch heads, an upright steel tubular steam boiler of 30 horse power capacity, and a structural steel derrick.

The scow and machinery will be used for buoy work on the seaboard of British Columbia. Specifications of the machinery and plans of the derrick can be obtained at the offices of the marine and fisheries department in Victoria. Tenders will be received up to the 20th June.

HER FIRST TIME HERE.

Shortly before 5 a. m. to-day the steamer Sopoma, under charter to the Pacific Steamship Company, pulled into the outer wharf, coming from San Francisco. The Sopoma is a vessel which formerly plied between San Francisco and Sydney as one of the fleet of the Oceanic Steamship Company until that concern dropped its sailings owing to a lack of subsidy. She is a big two funneled vessel.

The Sopoma was reported to have left the town along the coast. She will be away from Vancouver about ten days after which she will relieve the freighter Coquitlam on the northern British Columbian route for a trip.

The Sopoma will sail on the return voyage from this port on the 11th inst. On her present trip she landed the following passengers at Victoria: R. A. Burnett, Mrs. Knight, Miss Taylor, J. Helmer, J. F. Revell, C. E. Frasse, Mrs. E. Jackson, Miss Annet, Mrs. Small and two children, R. Menties, A. McKendle and wife, Geo. Slater and wife, J. Work, D. McCallum, H. A. McCall and wife, Alex. Low, D. C. Hutton, E. D. Jones, H. A. Foster, W. P. Guthridge and wife, T. R. Styles, C. Kenny, E. A. Pingree, L. McKenzie, A. D. Steel and 14 in the steerage.

LUMBER FOR ORIENT.

Several large shipments of lumber will be sent to Japan this season by the Canadian Pacific Lumber Company, of Port Moody. While the car shortage was on G. McCormick experienced difficulty in filling the orders coming in from the Territories, and turned his attention to other fields. As a result, the first cargo will be sent to the Orient about the middle of this month, and no doubt many more will follow. The car situation has now greatly improved, so much so that the yards in the Northwest are almost all filled up. During the month of May, 208 cars of lumber left the mill of the Canadian Pacific Lumber Company for the Territories and Eastern Canada.

MARINE NOTES.

The British sailing ship Loch Garve, which has been lying for some time past in the Royal Roads, will proceed to Tacoma to-night. At the Sound City she will go into dry dock to be thoroughly overhauled and painted and will subsequently load with lumber for Melbourne. The C. P. R. barge under construction at the Victoria Machinery Depot, has been moved on to the ways of that company and caulking operations and inside work are in progress. She will be launched early next week.

Satisfactory progress is being made on the work of cutting lumber ports in the British sailing ship Clan Graham now at the Victoria Machinery Depot. It is expected that she will be ready to proceed on her way to Chemainus inside a week. The government dredge King Edward has arrived in Vancouver from the Fraser river and will be engaged in draining the refuse which has accumulated on the foreshore in the neighborhood of the Evans-Coleman wharf.

The British steamer St. Helena, lumber laden from Hellingham for Melbourne, arrived at Nanaimo on Wednesday for bunker coal.

Loaded with 300 tons of freight for discharge at this port the Blue-Funnel liner Hellerophon is expected to pull in on Monday.

Carrying a full cargo from Vancouver, the steamer Athenian passed out yesterday on her way to Hongkong.

The R. M. S. Empress of Ireland arrived at Quebec from Liverpool at 9 a. m. to-day.

KILLED IN LOGGING CAMP.

While Shouting a Warning to Comrades, Charles Morrison Met Death.

Shooting to his friends to save their lives by jumping out of the way of a falling log, which had been struck by a log being hauled up at Highland camp, Johnston road, yesterday morning, Charles Morrison, a book tender, met death before his cry of warning had died away, says the New Westminster News.

Charles Morrison was about 32 years of age, unmarried, a native of Prince Edward Island, but had been on the coast for several years, and in the employ of Highland for some time past. The fatal accident occurred a few minutes before noon, death being instantaneous.

Morrison had hooked a log on the chain, and given the engineer the signal to go ahead. Hardly had the engine started when the log struck a hemlock which was sprung in the butt. The impact threw the hemlock across the log, it afterwards rolling away for some distance.

Morrison saw the log striking the tree, and immediately shouted a warning to his comrades, who were standing close by oblivious of all danger. These four sprang out of the way immediately, but Morrison delayed a fraction of a minute too long, and was struck across the back as he was jumping. When picked up by his companions he was quite dead.

VICTIM OF TOO MANY WIDOWS.

War Veteran Had Great Colonization Scheme But Made One Fatal Blunder.

A victim of too many widows, F. W. Nernberger, a civil war veteran of Ward County, North Dakota, stands convicted of land fraud and faces a sentence of one year in prison and a $2,000 fine, says a St. Paul, Minn. dispatch.

Nernberger had formulated a plan to people the great Northwest with veterans of the rebellion and of widows of veterans. His plan entailed exporting the widows and veterans to North Dakota, where he caused them to file on homestead claims in Ward County, which he had selected. To expedite his quest for a hurry-up fortune he caused the widows and veterans to sign a contract which provided that, in consideration of $200 each, they should deed their claims over to him as soon as they received title.

All went merrily at the start and Nernberger began to get rich. The first party of fourteen exported widows and veterans were bent to his will without question. But Nernberger was not satisfied. He wanted more wealth. Accordingly, he returned to Ohio and organized another party of fourteen, making twenty-eight in all that he exported—twenty widows and eight veterans.

The aged members of the second party obeyed his instructions implicitly until one day the crash came. Nernberger announced he intended to wed one of the widows. Each and every other widow in the party was up in arms in an instant.

With the tongues of seven widows and six veterans, not counting the widow he married, wagging against him, it was not long before the federal government, became inquisitive regarding the contracts Nernberger had drawn up for transferring the widows and veterans' homestead titles. His arrest and conviction followed.

The height is measured from the level of the lower low water at spring tides. This level corresponds with the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are referred, as closely as can now be ascertained. The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 12th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water.

London firemen get one day's leave in fifteen, and a short annual holiday. They begin on 24th inst., and do not rise to the full wage of 5s. until after 30 years' service.
